

Dead Ringers!

It's 1937 and, World War looms on the horizon but in the local parish church of St Swithin's, hostilities have already begun!

A priceless family heirloom from Greystone Manor has gone missing and all of the clues point to the Churchwarden as having something to do with it.

The Bell Ringers are ringing off- key and people are starting to wonder why.

Worse still, something is lurking in the churchyard and the flower arranger has been receiving messages from the 'other side'.

A church meeting has been called and half the parish has turned up to get to the bottom of this mystery before something really nasty happens.

But too late, because for some individuals, they will be making a 'grave' mistake turning up this evening!
